What's Happening with Miss Becky ?

In April, I will be going back to Russia for the Baskets of Hope (BOH) project. I am again really excited about going not only because I get to see friends, church family but also because we will be doing a 3 day camp in an orphanage. We will be staying at this orphanage doing Bible stories, crafts and teaching English. Please pray that I will be an example of God's love here to these precious ones. In this place there will be 87 children ages 7-18. This will be the first time that I will be doing BOH there and also the first time that we have been able to stay in the orphanage. God is doing AWESOME things in Russia. The dates that I will be gone are April 8-19. The distributions are 10th, 11th and 17th and we will be in the orphanage April 12-14.

Some of you have asked about my how my financial support is coming along,. Well it is coming but slowly. I am not one to talk about or ask for money but I just want to be honest with all of you. I still need 20% to be at full support.

Thank you all for coming along side me in your prayers, financial support and encouraging hugs and letters. I really appreciate it all more than you can imagine.

Interesting facts about Russia

*Nine million people are said to ride the Moscow Metro every day. That's more then London and New York combined.
